

Getting a license

In order to use Mixpost, you must buy a license. You can buy a license on the mixpost website.

What happens when your license expires

A few days before a license expires, we'll send you a reminder mail to renew your license.

Should you decide not to renew your license, you won't be able to use composer anymore to install this package. You won't get any new features or bug fixes.

Instead, you can download a zip containing the latest version that your license covers. This can be done on your purchases page on mixpost.app. You are allowed to host this version in a private repo of your own.
